

Internet and Wireless

How do I forget a wireless network on my device?

There are a couple of scenarios where you may need to 'forget' a wireless network from your device when you are on-campus:

- Your device is configured to connect to both wireless networks, and you need to remove one.
- You recently changed your Carthage password and you can no longer connect to Carthage-Secure ('forgetting' Carthage-Secure will allow you to reconnect and enter a new password).
- You entered an incorrect password for Carthage-Secure.

To 'forget' a network from your device, use the how-to documents below for assistance:

- Forget network for Windows 10 machines
- Forget network for Mac OS X machines
- Forget network for Android machines
- Forget network for iOS machines

If you are still having trouble, please email help@carthage.edu or visit the Hedberg Library Information Desk for assistance.

Unique solution ID: #1124

Author: smueller2

Last update: 2018-09-02 16:19